STATE OF GEORGIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
ATLANTA 30334-0900

Sonny Perdue
GOVERNOR

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The economic challenges facing this state and the nation have a real impact on state resources. Just as Georgia's families have seen the effects of the economy on their budgets, Georgia state government must face the challenge of doing more with less as well. The proposals presented in my budget recommendations ensure that we provide critical services to citizens while improving efficiency and customer service in state government.

While Georgia is not immune to the conditions that the rest of the nation is facing, we can be confident that we are well prepared to weather these challenges. Throughout my administration, my budget recommendations have been based on a conservative fiscal policy. The result is a leaner state government that lives within its means, provides services to a growing population, and creates a climate that encourages a strong economic recovery.

Georgia's history of fiscal restraint and sound budget management has readied us for this economic turmoil. At the start of my first term in 2003, I entered office under difficult financial conditions. That experience reinforced my belief that just as a family needs to save for a rainy day, so does the state. Putting a little aside in good times means that you have cushion to get you through the bumps that will inevitably come ahead. I worked with the General Assembly to rebuild our Revenue Shortfall Reserve — adding over $1.5 billion in three years. We used some of the reserve to balance the FY 2008 budget at year's end, and I am recommending a judicious use of a portion of the reserve account to help us balance the FY 2009 and FY 2010 budgets.

As economic conditions began to weaken early in 2008, I began a series of proactive steps to deal with the expected weakness in state revenue by revising revenue projections downward by $245 million, instructing agencies to curtail discretionary spending, and withholding state funds by 6 percent to state agencies. Agency heads took the opportunity to focus on their core mission and improve service to Georgia's citizens.

Several principles guided my decisions in the development of this budget:

- Education must remain our highest priority because future prosperity depends on a well educated workforce;

- Fiscal and tax policy must continue to foster business development and job creation;
- Government, like families, must live with available resources; and
- Critical services in public safety and health care must be maintained.

Following these principles, I instructed state agencies to submit budget requests that reduced overall agency spending by 6, 8 and 10 percent for both the Amended FY 2009 and FY 2010 budgets. These instructions gave agencies the flexibility to prioritize needs and examine their core missions. Despite declining revenues, the state must still provide services to the additional 162,000 new residents who moved to Georgia in the last year. The 30,000 students entering our schools for the first time must have teachers, books and classrooms. This budget funds education as much as possible. To assist local school boards in managing revenue reductions, they will be granted greater flexibility in the use of state funds.

With health care costs being a significant driver in state expenditures, my budget builds on the actions of the last 5 years which have significantly reduced the long term trend line in Medicaid and State Health Benefit Plan expenditures. Savings will also be realized in the state health benefit plan as a result of cost containment measures and the introduction of consumer-driven plans that will strongly encourage movement to these lower cost plans

To maintain a strong infrastructure in education, transportation, economic development and other state services, my bond package is targeted to those areas that will ensure the long-term prosperity of this state. It takes advantage of our AAA bond rating and the lower construction costs we are seeing because of the national recession. It also ensures that we are planning for the future by including necessary infrastructure spending on new schools, roads and other investments at state facilities.

I pledge to work with you to make sure that Georgia's future is not only secure but prosperous. Working together, I know that our future remains bright.

Sincerely,

Sonny Perdue

Lottery Reserves

Georgia's lottery laws require the establishment of two reserves that are funded as a percentage of lottery collections to avoid disruption in programs should collections fall short of annual appropriations.

The Shortfall Reserve Subaccount was included in the original law and requires that an amount be set aside each year equal to 10% of the prior year's total lottery proceeds deposited into the Lottery for Education Account. If net funds in the account are not sufficient to meet appropriations, funds shall be drawn from the reserve to make up the shortage.

Funds have been set aside for the Shortfall Reserve (10% reserve) each year and totaled $85,364,086 on June 30, 2008.

The lottery law was amended during the 1994 legislative session to require that a second reserve account within the Lottery for Education Account be established called the Scholarship Shortfall Reserve Subaccount.

The Scholarship Shortfall Reserve requires a reserve equal to 50% of the amount of scholarship proceeds disbursed during the preceding year be maintained. The subaccount balance on June 30, 2008 totaled $235,444,428.

The two lottery reserves as of June 30, 2008 total as follows:

Shortfall Reserve Subaccount	$85,364,086
Scholarship Shortfall Reserve Subaccount	235,444,428
TOTAL LOTTERY RESERVES	$320,808,514
